

Morris Road Bridge Construction Update

Construction of the "new" Morris Road (SR 2001) bridge was scheduled to be finished and the detour lifted in November 2010. With the additional work that still needs to be completed by the contractor, the PTC does not anticipate opening Morris Road to traffic until early January 2011.

The bridge deck is nearly finished and various safety items still need to be completed including the installation of guiderail and concrete bridge parapets. Roadway work required to tie the new bridge to the existing roadway includes placement of soil, graded aggregate, concrete curbs, blacktop paving and pavement markings.

Most of the work to be completed is weather and temperature sensitive.
